SECTION-A (Reading)

A.1. Read the given passage and answer the questions that follow:

The first ever duck race in Asia was held in Singapore in 1998. Since then it has been an annual event with up to 100,000 rubber ducks racing down the river. It is organized to raise funds for different charities. In some years, a million Singapore dollars were raised.

People adopt a duck by paying an amount of money which goes to charity. There are prizes for the fastest ducks. The first fifty ducks to cross the winning line prizes for the owner of the duck. The first prize is S$10,000 and there are other prizes such as cell phones and vouchers. After the race, the ducks cannot stay with their adoptive owners. They belong to the race organizers and must be returned to them.

The duck race is fun for all the family. It is even in the Guinness Book of Record for having the most number of ducks in any one race.

Answer the following:

- Q1. Which word in line 1 tells you that the duck race is held every year?
- Q2. Explain the purpose of the duck race.
- Q3. How is money raised by a duck race?
