

Handwriting Competition (Gr: VI-VIII)

Anand Niketan Maninagar strongly believes in improving and addressing children's penmanship, legibility, pencil/pen grasp, and working on problem areas, especially in the digital age when most of our written communication is done through texting on mobile devices or typing on a keyboard. Voice recognition software has even evolved to the point that commands can now be verbal—making even keystrokes obsolete!

So, are handwriting skills critical to your child's success? What's lost as tech-savvy young children learn to tap, swipe and touch screens before they have even learned to pick up a pencil or tie their shoelaces?

It is said that a person's handwriting is a reflection of a person's personality. A lot can be understood and said about a person by simply looking at his handwriting. A person with a good handwriting shows the kind of effort he puts in his work and real life. A good handwriting actually propels you forward in your exams and your job as it showcases an active and open minded person who is willing to take that extra endeavor in whatever he does. A good handwriting actually boosts the self confidence.

Keeping the importance of handwriting in mind we have organized an Inter House Handwriting Competition (ENGLISH and HINDI) on 7.8.19 (Wednesday) for Grades VI –VIII during regular school hours. Participation is compulsory for all students.

Duration: 20+20=40 mins

Evaluation Criteria:

The following points will considered while evaluating the handwriting sheets:

- a) Legibility and neatness.
- b) Font formation and uniformity in fonts.
- c) Joining or connectivity between letters (in cursive handwriting) and Spacing between letters (in print handwriting)
- d) Pen strokes and their angle.
